

One of the two gates at the ends of the walkway

Uta counted eight dreys

There are holes like this - foxes?

A square of about 120x120 m is fenced like this

Most of the trees have a size like this

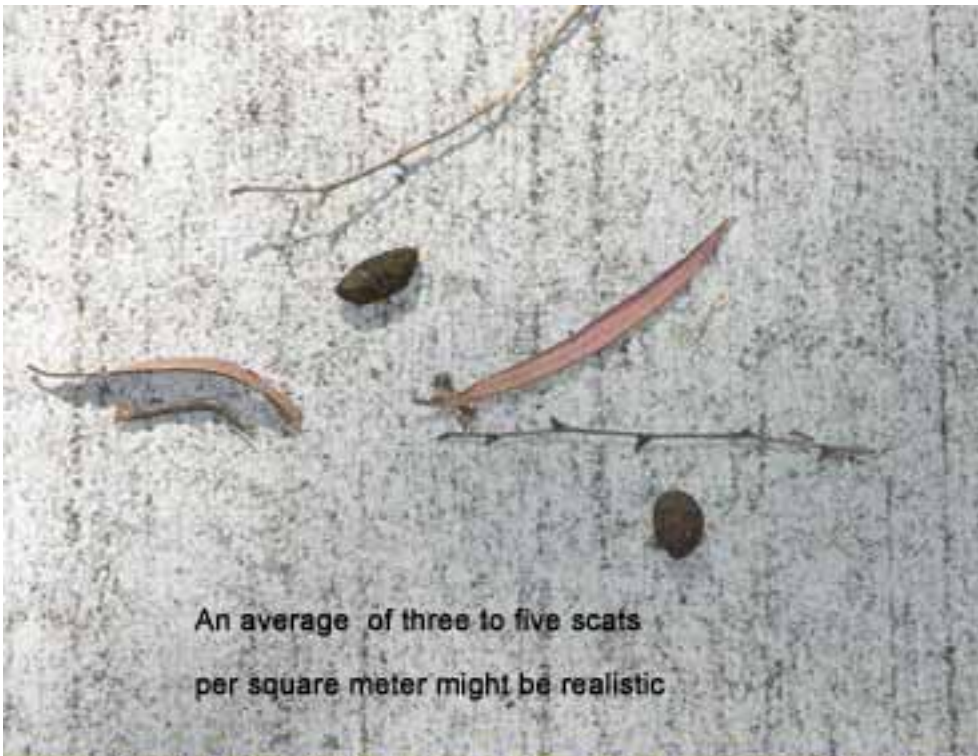

But there are mature trees too

There are ca. 150 m walkway from gate to gate

A nice place for a rest

An average of three to five scats per square meter might be realistic

there is quite a bit of litter around

A few patches of Understory

A fallen Tree across the walkway
